

Local Man Finds Way To Make Spinach Tasty

Experts To Put New Toasted Vegetable Wafer on Market; Product Wins Praise.

Experts to prepare spinach in such form that it would be palatable to children has been the goal of Charles H. Raymond, 45, of Marion, Ohio, since the discovery of a way to place it on the market.

For these foods, which are sold in packets, Mr. Raymond has spent nearly two years of his life in perfecting the various stages of these two foods.

Mr. Raymond, who is a native of Marion, Ohio, and who has been in the food business for many years, has been successful in his efforts to make spinach palatable to children. He has developed a new method of preparing spinach, which he has patented, and which he has named "Spinach Toasted Vegetable Wafer."

Mr. Raymond has copyrighted a trademark for the chips. It carries the words "Nut Chips" with a photograph of a nut as a background. The communications with the manufacturers have convinced him that the chips are different from anything now on the market.

Mr. Raymond began his experiments about two years ago after he learned that his sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Ross, now of Baltimore, Md., formerly of Marion, had spent much time inducing her children to eat carrots or spinach.

The idea came to him that if a food product could be made containing carrots and spinach in combination with other foods to secure their flavor, it would be "the young and old," he said.

Studies Food Values

Mr. Raymond studied charts to learn food values. This led him to decide that spinach was the most satisfactory food of carrying out my idea.

Remember the first fairly satisfactory wafers were baked. These were rolled out very thin, cut into irregular shapes and baked in a small pan. The pan side of the wafer was not as appetizing as the other side, so I decided to turn them. This also made them more palatable.

Mr. Raymond had to have this wafer different from all other products. I found that by suspending them on irregularly curved wires, they shaped themselves in toasting in a form which would identify them.

Then I improved upon the crispness by changing to a flour that

Numerous Local Issues Before Voters of Ohio

Issues and Tax Levies Listed in Many Cities;
Major Contests Reviewed.

The Associated Press reports that the voters of Ohio next week will mark ball-boxes on a wide range of questions—local and state problems of the real estate industry, a proposed amendment to the state constitution, and a picture of local issues in the larger cities of the state.

Ohio's largest city, Cleveland, will elect 35 councilmen, 15 judges and school board members. Mayor T. Miller, Democrat, is seeking reelection as mayor. He is backed by the "Big Four" of Cleveland: the school board, the city council, the city judges, and the city commissioners. A one-third majority will elect the mayor. All Cleveland voters will elect mayors. Nine are in the field at Lakewood, voters of Cuyahoga county pass upon a 2½-mill emergency poor relief and levy for road and bridge improvements. The Republicans waged a mighty fight to oust the Democrats in the election of a city council. They were ousted in favor of the non-partisan charter. There will be a referendum on a bond issue authorizing construction of approximately $60,000 for the purpose of improving and operating gas and electric plants. Other bond issues include $1,700,000 for a new library, $1,400,000 for a new library and $2,100,000 for a new general school building.

Columbus—The fight in the city centers about the election of city councilmen. Other city officials will be named. Seven bond issues for a total of $10,700,000, including an addition to the municipal electric light plant, sewage disposal, sewers, an addition to City Hall, an incinerator and three colleges will be passed upon.

There is much said today about the work of the industrial school. It is a place where girls are taught to be self-reliant, and to be able to take care of themselves. It is a place where girls are taught to be good citizens, and to be able to contribute to the community. It is a place where girls are taught to be happy, and to be able to enjoy life. More Training Needed
We want and need to give the girls more extensive training in home-making and practical arts, and to give them more spiritual training. Mrs. Bratty asserted.

HAPPY NOW

Mrs. J. Miller, of 1641 Belmont Road, knows how to cut down the household budget. "An unnecessary extravagance," she says, "is using a different change for each job. I found that the double-size Eveready package of Vicks VapoRub was the best buy. It saved me a great deal."

SOME EVIDENCE OF PROGRESS IN NEW RUSSIA

But for the sign in the native language and the peculiar type harness on the horses, this procession of wagons, laden with farm produce might well have been pictured anywhere in the American hinterland. It gives a graphic idea of how Russia has progressed in the past few years. Here you can see a first class road, flanked by a trolley line (at left), well-built houses and, in background, a modern apartment house, of the type that is fast supplanting the drab abodes of rural dwellers in the Soviet.

Harding Eleven To Play Galion Saturday

BOTH TEAMS WAGING BATTLE TO ESCAPE FROM LEAGUE CELLAR

Stiff Fight Looms With Neither Given Much Pre-Game Advantage.

Confident of their ability to stay a four-game home attack at the expense of the Orange-reds, the Harding High football team is winding up preparations today for the Galion Saturday game. The game will be played at 2:30 p. m. in the Galion stadium. The teams are not scheduled to meet until Saturday.

After a day of play yesterday, Coach Jack Chaske ordered his charges into harness again today for a short signal drill. Chaske excused the first 20 men on the signal to today in the hope that a rest would put the boys in better physical condition. Several of them are still bothered by minor but troublesome injuries suffered in the Mansfield game last week. At the same time, Weller, the wrapping red-headed center, is not expected to play against Galion. Weller has not been out to practice this week and has little chance to get in the Galion conflict.

Pro Keeps Head Down, Cracks 50 in Night Golf

By The Associated Press
BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—The past of an Autumn moon cast a pale light over the ninth hole of the Landon Country club golf course last night when a dark figure held a club aloft. There was the whirr of a club head against ball, and it was all over.

Ernie Hogarth, pro at the club, standing in the dark, had broken 50 for nine holes, winning his wager and proving, as he says, that the most important thing about the game is keeping one's head down.

He contended that by observing this maxim a good golfer could play as well in the dark as in daylight. A Cleveland friend disagreed, and set 50 as a good mark. Hogarth got a 45.

There were five pars and two three-puts for seven on the drive. A caddy spotted a flashlight on the ball and others were posted along the fairway to listen for it. Only once was the pro in the rough. Fallen leaves sometimes made the search difficult, but not one ball was lost.

WINOOKA TO RUN AGAIN SATURDAY

By The Associated Press
BALTIMORE, Nov. 3.—Winooka, the Australian horse which won his first race in the east Wednesday, will race at Pimlico tomorrow in a $2500 race. The horse, owned by a Baltimorean, is expected to win.

With Weller on the sidelines and George Mason's injured hand preventing his working at the snare back position, the pivot man's duties have fallen on the shoulders of Ingmire. Ingmire hardly figures to match Weller's offensive play because of lack of experience but on defense he'll take care of most anything Galion has to offer. The shoulder injury which has bothered him most of the season is practically gone now and the hunky 175-pounder has been playing a smashing game in practice this week. There is every indication he will cause all kinds of trouble for the Orange-reds.

Few Changes Likely
With the exception of Weller, the starting Harding lineup is expected to be almost the same as faced Mansfield last Saturday. Walker and Brady are slated for the end posts, the former despite an injury to his leg. Carhart and Corrigan are likely to start at the tackles but Haberman will undoubtedly see a lot of service before the game is over. Zuck and Milley are the likely choice for the guards unless Mackon's hand is well enough to allow him to take over his old job. Ingmire at center will complete the forward wall.

In the backfield Goerlich will be at his usual quarterback position with Whitten at fullback. Frazier will be at the left halfback post with either Danner or Smart, probably Smart, at the other.

The probable starting lineups:

HARDING	Galion
Walker	Shelton
Carhart	Shelton
Milley	Shelton
Ingmire	Shelton
Zuck	Shelton
Corrigan	Shelton
Brady	Shelton
Goerlich	Shelton
Frazier	Shelton
Smart	Shelton
Whitten	Shelton

EVERHARD'S

Herman Everhardt, senior halfback of the title-defending University of Michigan eleven, had a big lead among Big Ten scorers at the season's halfway mark with seven touchdowns and seven extra points.

CRESTLINE PROS TO TACKLE BARBERTON

Aerial Battle Expected Sunday on Crawford County Gridiron.

CRESTLINE, O., Nov. 3.—The Crestline Merchants continue their "suicide" schedule Sunday afternoon at Lincoln stadium when they tangle with Barberton. Crestline's offense is expected to be a power-house attack, an effective defense, and a host of former collegiate luminaries including Presto of the University of California, Witter, former Naval academy ace, Zupic of Akron U. fame, and Hutchinson of Heidelberg renown and a member of last year's Merchant eleven. A tie with the undefeated Welch A. C. of Akron denotes more than ordinary pluck in ability, and the done bucket may receive quite a little maintenance by the invaders.

Coach "Doc" Strauch is stressing pass defense in the scrimmages this week. Barberton having completed 70 per cent of their aerial attempts this season. The Akron suburban outfit literally fill the air with footballs and have placed a majority of their contests on the right side of the ledger by frequent air excursions.

The Merchant scoring punch, being somewhat of a negative quantity this year was more pronounced in the Ellet Junior Order game than before, and only the unusual bull dog tactics of the Akron aggregation prevented several prominent touchdowns bids.

The advance sale of tickets indicate a capacity crowd and the Crawford county is anxiously awaiting the arrival of another semi-pro headliner.

EXPERT PICKS GAELS TO KNOCK FORDHAM OFF UNBEATEN LIST

Michigan Expected To Whip Illinois; Ohio State Favored Over Hoosiers.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Still alive but shuddering over the possibility that he just ahead, the football prognosticator shuffles the names around in a hat, mutters an incantation or two and emerges with the following selections for this weekend.

Fordham-St. Mary.—This, the biggest intersectional game on the program, brings together undefeated Fordham and a Gael outfit already twice beaten. Strictly playing a hunch, this guesser likes St. Mary's.

Colgate-Tulane.—This Colgate team, not as good as last year's, has a tricky offense that may be more than the Green Wave can handle.

Michigan Favored
Illinois-Michigan—Zupke's Illini are rated and ready but we doubt their ability to stop the undefeated Wolverines.

Notre Dame-Navy—Playing the law of averages for more, perhaps than it's worth, we don't see any Notre Dame outfit losing three games.

Brown-Princeton—Their close call against Washington & Lee should have bounced some of the over-confidence out of the Tigers' skulls and, if so, here's a vote for them.

Carnegie-Purdue—Here's where Carnegie Tech and this particular guesser come to the parting of the ways.

Minnesota-Northwestern—If Minnesota is not at least the second best team in the Big Ten, then the game should prove it.

Dartmouth-Yale—Dartmouth has never beaten Yale. Unless it's a tie, the game is a foregone conclusion.

Army-Cow-Sympathy is extended to the visitors from Iowa who travel to West Point with an unbeaten record.

U. C. L. A.-California—On the basis of their fine showing against Southern California, a vote for California.

Ohio In Front
Ohio State-Indiana—There's no alternative but to ride with Ohio State.

Nebraska-Missouri—Another Cornhusker triumph indicated.

Southern Methodist-Texas—Texas should win its second Southwest conference victory.

Pitt-Centre—The Colonels come to Pitt with a prayer for a respectable score.

Iowa-Iowa State—The Hawkeyes haven't played Iowa State for 12 years and expect to continue where they left off with a 14-10 triumph in 1920.

Chicago-Wisconsin—We'd just as soon no one had brought this up but will take a flier on Chicago.

Vanderbilt-Georgia Tech—Tech rates an edge with a superior offense.

SWEDES LOSING OUT, ONLY ONE WINS POST ON GOPHER ELEVEN

Startling Discovery Made as Minnesota Invades Evans-ton for Tilt with Wildcats.

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—It was a most horrible shock to the Murphy, O'Flannagan, and the O'Flannagan family the day they discovered only two Irishmen playing football with the "Fighting Irish" of Notre Dame.

But it's time for the Ole Olsens, the Johnsons and the Sven Petersons to brace themselves for some bad news. Here it is:

There's only one Swede on the regular lineup of the "Swedes from Minnesota."

Disturbing News
The startling, disturbing news to Swedish football fans and caption writers was revealed today as Coach Bernie Bierman brought his Minnesota team to Evanston for tomorrow's skirmish against the alternately wild and tame Wildcats of Northwestern. Only one player of Swedish extraction was named on the probable starting lineup and he was a sophomore—George Svendsen, a 200 pound tackle.

A check-up of the nationality strain disclosed that on the probable starting lineup against the Wildcats were three Germans, three Norwegians, two Irishmen, an Englishman, an Italian, and Svendsen. Yes, there were three Norwegians, but if you insist on calling them "all the same" with the Swedes, just start an argument like that sometime in a Norwegian-Swedish community.

Improving rapidly, the Gophers risk as a heavy favorite to defeat the Wildcats and preserve their Big Ten championship hopes, now dimmed by tie games against Purdue and Indiana.

Big Ten Active
Meanwhile there was plenty of activity along the other Big Ten front as teams departed or finished plans to stem invasions from within and without the conference. Michigan, top ranking favorite to win the championship, sent 33 players to Champaign as the Illini polished a two weeks drill with work on a pass defense amidst a new wave of enthusiasm and confidence. Good weather and a crowd of 30,000 was expected for the game. Purdue was ready for the Carnegie Tech, a team that hasn't been scored on this season. Indiana's coppers were in good shape for Ohio State, and Wisconsin and Chicago defeated in all their conference starts, were primed for their 37th annual battle at Chicago.

NAMES ENOUGH TO SCARE ANY TEAM

By The Associated Press
MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va.—The mere listing of the names of members of this football team sends shudders through opponents' teams.

Graptown (open field runner), Spauld (forward passer), Knockout (guard), Steam-shovel (quarterback), Sneak (quarterback), Mongoose (end), Express (halfback), Two-tun (two-third of a triple threat man), Mingo, Six Months, Daisy, 16-Jaw, Plucker and Battler (who probably will be ousted from the team).

The men are on the West Virginia state penitentiary team who meets the Moundsville Eagles tonight and the names are actual nicknames.

MICKEY WALKER TO MEET ROSENBLUM IN TITLE BOUT TONIGHT

Challenger, Seeking Third Crown, Distinct Underdog in Betting Odds.

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—If the trend of the times alone could bring about a fight between Mickey Walker and Max Baer, the fight would be a new light heavyweight champion (first man in the modern history of the ring to hold these titles).

Mickey goes to the wars again, possibly for his last title chance against Max Baer, 175 pound ruler in a 15 round engagement in Madison Square Garden. He has the face of Lou Brouillard, Tony Canzoneri, Jackie Fields, Young Corbett III, Lou Jeby, and lastly Jack Sharkey ex-champions, all within the year to spur him on.

But unfortunately for Mickey, over a decade of stalling effort piled on top of his 32 years form an invisible line of the experts agree is too much for even so stout a hearted warrior as came with success against Baer, Rosenbloom, the harlequin of the ring pit, Max the slapper is a 2 to 1 favorite to win.

As further as Baer, Rosenbloom has trained for his championship fight, shadow boxing with his dummy, wrestling with a dress, and working to and from the nearest bar.

Girding for a last effort to get back in the top line, Mickey Walker has gone through a series of strenuous training and is as fit as it is possible for a man to be at this stage of his career. Ten years ago he won the world light championship from Jack Dempsey.

Midwest boxing fans will support Mickey Walker in his fight with Max Baer.

DELAWARE PREPARES FOR HUGE CROWD AT CINCINNATI CONTEST

10,000 Visitors Expected To Jam City for Important Battle.

Special to The Star
Cincinnati, O., Nov. 3.—The game between the Delaware Blue Bombers and the Cincinnati Bengals is expected to draw a crowd of 10,000 visitors to the city for an important battle.

The game will be played at 2:30 p. m. in the Cincinnati stadium. The teams are not scheduled to meet until Saturday.

After a day of play yesterday, Coach Jack Chaske ordered his charges into harness again today for a short signal drill. Chaske excused the first 20 men on the signal to today in the hope that a rest would put the boys in better physical condition. Several of them are still bothered by minor but troublesome injuries suffered in the Mansfield game last week. At the same time, Weller, the wrapping red-headed center, is not expected to play against Galion. Weller has not been out to practice this week and has little chance to get in the Galion conflict.

But that deluged defeat indicates Cincinnati's red power while Ohio Wesleyan has slowly built up its power since the Syracuse defeat.

The Blue Bombers have the better offense, but Cincinnati has the best defense, according to all available data. The question is, which is the stronger Cincinnati's defense or Ohio Wesleyan's offense?

Coach George Gauder of the Blue Bombers has almost definitely settled in on his starting backfield. White, who will be at quarterback, Tupper and White at the halves, and Minter at fullback. Six veterans will start in the line, with Bill Stults of St. Wayne, end, the only sophomore.

Cincinnati's squad will stop off in Columbus Friday for a workout on Ohio State's field and will stay in the Ohio capital Friday night.

TROPHY CHALLENGE SENT BY BRITISH

By The Associated Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—The arduous task of preparing to defend America's cup against the British challenger, T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour, was under way today.

Members of the New York Yacht club, which holds the historic trophy, met last night to read the challenge of the Royal Yacht Squadron for a match to begin Sept. 15, 1934, and to appoint a committee "with power."

It is understood a new cup defender must be built to match speed with the Endeavour, the first all steel challenger which is expected to be faster than any yacht which ever has raced for the cup.

The Marietta football team will play the Richwood Independents Sunday, at 2:30 p. m. at Richwood. All members of the Marietta team are to be at the Y at 12:45 p. m.

Football Moguls To Hear Demands for Rule Changes

LEADS NEW YORK

Harry Temple, captain of the New York university eleven, is apparently a natural-born gridiron leader. He captained the squads of Bellfonte academy for two years before entering N. Y. U. Temple is a back, 22 years old, weighs 175, and stands 5 feet 11. His home is in Altoona, Pa. (International News photo.)

Nov. 2.—The boys' football season is under way, and rather quiet for a moment. You can look for a number of suggested changes when the uniforms are changed to the mohawks.

The grid code has now been in effect for a couple of seasons. A few minor alterations have been made, and there are a few more suggested. Most of the changes are on the technical side of the game, with no more or less of the rule-makers.

The present season started, some needed changes in all parts of the game. In its place are suggestions of the rules in places.

First to be brought up is the matter of blocked punts. Only called to the attention of the football fans in the past recently. As it stands, if a blocked punt is up against the end zone, the kicking team can recover it in the end zone. If the kicking team recovers it, it is a safety, even if the ball is run out.

Called "Boner" when Yale punts on downs on its own half, the Yale punter punts into the end zone to block the ball. A recovered punt in the end zone is a safety. The officials ruled it a safety first down. It was, of course, as was decided next day, for the rules that under no circumstances can the kicking team advance the ball. Fortunately Yale did not score. If the score had been 6-0, Brown might have had to say about those who were entitled to, but didn't.

The committee will find it difficult to change the rule that either team can advance the ball on a blocked kick. The rule regarding the dead ball, some attention, too, it is thought. In the Ohio-Michigan game, there were two instances in which players with the ball fell without being tackled, and although they could have continued running, they had to stop. The rule says the ball is dead if a player is down in possession of the ball in possession of the player in possession of the ball.

The suggested changes here is that the rule apply only to instances where a man is tackled. Accidental falls should not be included, it is argued.

The epidemic of lateral passes which has certainly opened up the game will bring some agitation for a change. A missed lateral pass is the same as a fumble which means that the defending team can recover the ball but not advance it. The side which put the ball in play can go places if it makes the recovery. Hence, there will be a movement on foot to permit the defending team on a lateral pass play to have the same privilege.

It is expected that there will be some effort to remove the restriction entirely on recovered fumbles, so that the defending team will once again be able to run with the ball.

Forward passing also is going to come in for some attention. One group will be in favor of restricting the tossing game, but it will be outnumbered by those who want to make passing more liberal. A number of changes will be suggested in both directions, with the result that probably nothing much will be done about it.

The "more-passing" clique will find support in many who want to make scoring easier. Defense has curtailed offense in football, and there is danger of boring the cash customers to the extent of discouraging them from spending their cash at the box-office unless something is done to equalize matters.

One suggestion will be to move the goal posts forward to the goal line, as the professionals have done this season. Field goals have been more frequent in pro circles this year than ever before, and many games have been decided in this manner. The colleges still have the posts ten yards back of the goal line.

The recent pass up at Minnesota, where a close game was called a few minutes too soon, according to reports, brings up the matter of

SOUND SLEEP AT NIGHT

And Energetic Days Can Be Yours

This Natural, Drugless Way

Try It Tonight . . . See For Yourself Why So Many Physicians Endorse This Way To Secure Sleep That Really Rests You . . . And Brings Quiet Nerves Next Day

FROM tonight on—stop wasting precious hours trying to get to sleep! Put an end to those hours of night-time worry and fretful tossing that work such havoc with nerves next day!

For now there is a drugless way to secure sleep quickly entirely without drugs. Deep sleep! Sound sleep that really rests tired bodies and weary minds!

The method is simplicity itself—and no medicines are employed. Many physicians urge and recommend it. It brings you natural sleep!

It is a delicious food concentrate called Ovaltine—originally created in Switzerland, now made over here. A concentrate of vital elements taken solely from natural foods. Elements which scientists have discovered play a tremendous part in regulating the functions of the body, digestion, brain and nerves!

What You Do

If you sleep poorly, you are urged to try this tonight! Simply

For Best Results

Whenever physical exhaustion or nervousness is the cause of sleeplessness, Ovaltine is at once recommended.

mix 2 to 4 teaspoonfuls of Ovaltine in a glass of warm milk and drink it a few minutes before retiring. Then get into bed—put out the light—relax.

Almost before you know it you'll fall asleep as easily as a child! And sleep all night more peacefully than you have, probably, in weeks and months.

In the morning you awaken vastly refreshed—nerves calmer, mind clearer by far. Filled with new energy—ready for what the day may bring—alive and "on your toes."

For this remarkable food-drink not only brings sound sleep quickly—but also improves the quality of sleep. While certain food elements it contains act to replenish nerve, brain and body tissues during the time you sleep.

As a result, your ability to recover from fatigue is greatly multiplied. While energy and "staying power" are heightened and increased.

How It Acts

Ovaltine acts to combat the 3 most common causes of sleeplessness in 3 different ways—entirely without drugs.

First: Ovaltine, taken as a warm drink at bedtime, tends to draw excess blood away from the brain. Thus, exciting mental calm and "conditioning" the mind for sleep.

Second: Ovaltine corrects digestive unrest by gently stimulating and aiding digestive processes.

Third: Ovaltine supplies important food elements, the absence of which, in ordinary diet, leads to irritated nerves and sleeplessness.

Advised by 20,000 Physicians

So surprising are the results achieved by Ovaltine—that it has been approved by more than 20,000 doctors. During the World War, medical authorities made it a standard ration for rebuilding shell-shocked, nerve-shattered soldiers. While today its use has spread to 54 different countries.

In America its use has grown amazingly during these troublous times. Hundreds of thousands of people take it religiously each night (often on physicians' advice) in order to secure sound, restful sleep despite the worry and nerve tension so many experience today.

Nor is its use confined to men. For women are realizing more keenly every day that of all the "beauty treatments" ever devised, nothing else equals sleep. Specialists concur in this—and common sense bears it out.

Start Tonight

Don't judge Ovaltine merely by what users claim for it. Demand, if you wish, the fact that it is approved by 20,000 physicians. But try it—and see for yourself.

Observe how quickly you fall asleep at night—how much faster you look and feel next day. Note, too, how much greater energy you have—how "staying power" multiplies.

As you continue to take Ovaltine, observe the permanent benefits you obtain. See how it builds up and maintains your natural tendency to sleep peacefully every night—how vitality increases.

So once again we say—don't put up with sleepless nights another day. Say goodbye to night-time tossing. Phone your druggist or grocer for a tin of Ovaltine now—you'll be glad you did.

NOTE: Thousands of nervous people, men and women, are using Ovaltine to restore vitality when fatigued. It is also highly recommended by physicians for nervous, underweight children—and as a strengthening food for nursing mothers, convalescents, and the aged.

OVALTINE

The Swiss Food-Drink

Manufactured in the United States according to the original Swiss formula

Building Resilience

Build up your body and mind with Ovaltine. It is the most complete food-drink ever devised. It contains all the elements necessary for health and vitality. It is the most perfect food-drink ever devised. It is the most perfect food-drink ever devised. It is the most perfect food-drink ever devised.

"Oh, no," said Min again.
"Min—when did you meet me first?"

Jim felt a rising excitement.

"Not a work? Do you mean you me from that hospital at Elletts?"

"No, never." She looked up at him with an air of childlike candor.

"Then it was Nests who told you

I was Jim Riddell?"

"But she couldn't have made a

Jim asked abruptly.

Given in Marriage

By ADELE GARRISON.

Harry Underwood starts for the hospital to relieve Hugh as guard over Dicky.

THAT something urgent, though as yet unexplained to the rest of us, lay behind my father's mandate to Harry Underwood was plain in the very timbre of his voice, as he laid an injunction upon the big man to tell Hugh not to worry about speed laws in his return to the farm.

It was equally plain to me, however, and I guessed to Lillian also, that fear of Lee Chow or of any of his agents had no part in my father's directions. Otherwise he would not have dispatched Harry Underwood, the man of greatest physical prowess in the house, to summon Hugh home.

There was a bit of hesitancy in Harry's manner, however, as in obedience to my father's mandate he moved toward the door.

A Trickster

"You're sure he's all right in there with only Jim to guard him?"
"If your knapsack holds," my father replied—and I fancied I saw a faint twinkle in his eyes, signal of the hidden veil of merriment that sometimes bubbles up irrepressibly in his most strenuous moments.

"They'll hold, all right," Harry said grimly, "but I'm here to tell you that Lee Chow has that old Machivelli gink backed off the boards for cute tricks. Jim, under some circumstances, would be an easy worked puzzle for him."

"But here's somebody that wouldn't," Lillian interposed softly, as down the hall we saw Katie approaching. In her hands a tray with a pitcher of hot milk Lillian had ordered for me, and on her face an expression of discontent.

"Try her, Chief," Lillian urged softly, "she's simply dying of curiosity to get into that room, and she won't let Lee Chow put anything over on her! I'll back her against all the sapient Oriental on this green earth."

Into my father's eyes flashed a look of decision.
"Katie," he said, as my little maid came into the room and set the tray on the table, "would you like to take a piece of detective work for me?"

Into Katie's eyes flashed a look of joy as supreme as can come to a human being.
"You mean me to help you?"

"Yes, I mean just that, Katie," he said smiling. "You know, of course, that Lee Chow is in Mr. Graham's get on your nerves, until you'll be tempted to strangle her. Don't marry a girl who tries to 'improve' you or to 'remodel' you. You may find yourself tied to a life-censor, who will keep you forever trying to atone yourself, like a prisoner in the dock. Marriage is not a reformatory."

Don't marry a girl who passes her kisses around, like cocktails and sandwiches. After all, when you take a wife, you don't want a remnant of the bargain-counter—and that easy-kissing habit may be cheap."

Don't marry a girl who puns her own sex. When she tells you all her little foibles and meanness, she is usually painting her own portrait.

Of course, you may follow all these rules and still marry the wrong woman. Because most men just put off marrying, until they are in the mood—and then casually marry the girl who happens to be nearest at hand.—Copyright,

Daily Guide to Health

BY DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Prompt Care of Disease Important.

"WHAT IS the cause of gall bladder disease?" "Can it be prevented?" "What can be done to prevent the occurrence of this common and troublesome disorder?"

These and similar questions are daily put to doctors. I am glad to say that I have found answers to gall bladder disease makes it possible to answer these questions.

There is greater hope for the gall bladder in the days when it was known as the gall bladder.

The gall bladder is a small sac located on the under surface of the liver. It is the reservoir of storage place of the bile formed in the liver.

It is an important organ in digestion. It stores bile and after it passes from the stomach into the duodenum, the first part of the small intestine.

There is no demand for bile in the process of digestion it is stored in the gall bladder. This organ may contain from one to two ounces. When digestion takes place and it is needed, the gall bladder contracts and pours bile into the intestines. This is accomplished by the action of the abdominal muscles, the diaphragm and the muscles contained in the wall of the gall bladder.

Inflammation of the gall bladder, with the formation of gallstones, is a common disease. It affects women more than men and is especially common in overweight individuals and persons who are careless about their diet and negligent about exercise.

A persons who leads a sedentary sort of life and is careless about his personal habits is liable to this disorder. Chronic constipation, infected teeth, sinusitis or tonsils, a diseased appendix and chronic infections are other causes that must not be overlooked.

Bear in mind that in the early stages of inflammation of the gall bladder, it can be cured by correction of diet, by the removal of all causes of infection. But chronic inflammation of the gall bladder, with marked stone formation, requires surgery for complete cure.

Modern surgery is safe and "cholecystectomy," which is the name of the operation for the removal of the gall bladder, is no longer a dreaded operation.

I am often asked how it is possible to determine accurately whether the gall bladder is diseased. This is possible by means of the so-called "Graham test." In this test a certain dye is injected into a vein. It colors the bile and when accumulated in the gall bladder it casts a shadow on an X-ray plate. This outlines the size and shape of the normal gall bladder.
If diseased the normal shadow is not observed. If stones are present

Gilead and possibly a few to Marietta. At Bloominggrove some will go to Galion and some to Iberia. The ruling of the state board came as the result of the extreme financial difficulties in which many of the smaller high schools find themselves and in many parts of the state large savings can be effected, it was said.

SCHAFFNER'S WILL TAKE A LIMITED AMOUNT OF BUILDING & LOAN BOOKS DURING THE AUCTION AT MARKET VALUE
Many of our friends have urged us to accept their Building and Loan Pass Books so they too could profit by the Fire Sale Auction. We need cash with which to buy a new stock of furniture so we can only use what books we can convert into cash immediately.
We can only pay market value, but in this case our sacrifice is as great as yours. You can buy good furniture and rugs at 33 1/3 to 50 cents on the dollar now, so in reality you are getting full value for your book. There is a huge selection of our better pieces left to choose from.
We can accept any part of your book above $25. Considering the auction bargains and the advance in prices this represents a real opportunity.
We reserve the right to discontinue books at any time.
